

What can you expect from ELEVATION?

Elevation is a basketball camp for boys and girls from Kindergarten through 12th grade. The format is very relaxed but will prove to instill a basic understanding of fundamentals and encourage the kids to constantly improve. The athletes will also be given sound biblical knowledge in the form of testimony and verse. In response to many campers last year, the camp has expanded this year to 2 weeks.

The importance of God in our Basketball game.

In Philippians 3:8-9 Paul tells us that everything is a loss compared to knowing Christ Jesus. Now when it comes to basketball we are not always ready for the "L" word to come up. However, by realizing the greater call and embracing that for which God has called us we do achieve. We have been given a great gift to be able to participate in basketball in the first place, at Elevation camp we strive to impart the knowledge that our victories will be in heaven. This does not mean that we do not strive to be victorious on the court, because God has also called us not to be timid but to attain all the things that He has for us. Coaches and volunteers at Elevation will provide an opportunity for your camper to learn some basic and advanced basketball skills while strengthening that bond with the maker.

Paul would go on in that scripture to tell us that we gain Christ through the loss of ourselves. We always strive to leave pride at the door of Elevation and that is why there is so much emphasis on fundamentals rather than playing pick up games and scrimmages. Your athlete will get plenty of playing time but that is not our sole purpose of the camp as it tends to be during some camps you may have experienced.

Group prayer at Valley Christians' scrimmage game. "Raising Him Up", saw VCHS and Fond du Lac Christian come together for God and basketball.

Training up a child in basketball and the word of God.

Dan Wetzel will be on hand during the camp to coach the high school age athletes. Dan has worked with professional, collegiate and high school teams in addition to youngsters and booster club organizations across the country.

Be inspired by his message on character-building, goal setting and working hard, as have countless others across the country from New York to Los Angeles. Hear Dan's motivating story of watching his childhood dream of playing "Big Time" basketball shatter right before his eyes. Despite only being named to his High School All-Conference Honorable Mention team, and never playing college ball, he now wows the games very best with his skills and abilities. Dan inspires players to maximize their talents and abilities while there is still time and to rise above the level of mediocrity.

Dan Wetzel will be on hand to demonstrate some eye-popping skills and empower your camper.

Sports Faith in the House!

Sports possess considerable drawing power throughout the world at all levels of competition.

SportsFaith recognizes that appeal and uses Christian witnesses at all levels of involvement to spread His word, make disciples and teach athletes and athletic followers the right way to do things through the Bible, testimony and Christian example. Sports Faith uses multiple platforms to display Christian solidarity and the importance of being a part of God's "team" on the field, where we live and with everyone whom we come in contact with on our faith journeys along the way. Matt Kowalczyk from Sports Faith will be on hand to share with the campers about God working in the life of athletes and to give testimony as to how that can be accomplished.

Matt is a coach at Appleton Christian School and is a co-founder of the Sports Faith Ministry, he resides in Kaukauna, WI with his wife Richelle and their 5 children.
